From Vice President Ryan Nesbit: 'Why I got the COVID-19 Vaccine'

When vaccines for the COVID-19 virus became available earlier this year, Finance & Administration's Vice President Ryan Nesbit looked for his first chance to receive it. Ryan himself tested positive for the virus in January 2021. His experience over the next several weeks was draining and jarring and deepened his desire for access to a vaccine more than ever.

Ryan's testimony is a reminder that the best protection for ourselves, our friends and families, and our communities is to mask up, practice good hand hygiene, but most importantly, get vaccinated. More information can be found by visiting coronavirus.uga.edu.

FROM OUR HOME TO YOURS

Students enjoyed some of the Auxiliary staff's all-time favorite recipes during From Our Home to Yours in the dining commons on September 30. Check out these Chocolate No-Bake Cookies! More recipes from the special event will be included in future Roundup newsletters and can be found on the Dining website.

Featured Family Recipe

In 1991, my Aunt Carole worked as a waitress at a restaurant in Lakeport, Michigan. Her manager made these No-Bake Cookies for a work Christmas party one year, and everyone loved them. My aunt told me that, "There are a million and one recipes for No-Bakes and I've tried about half of them... and these were perfect. How they set, the flavor, everything." She brought some home to share with family and everyone agreed they were the best.

My aunt asked for the recipe, and we've made them every year for Christmas for as long as I can remember. My mom, my aunt, my grandma and I made it a tradition. Now that I don't live in Michigan anymore and my grandma is almost 90 years old, I make them every year because they're my favorite and I love the memories that go along with making them from when I was little.

Campus logistics: How Ky Gibson steers us in the right direction

With daily ridership reaching almost 40,000, a huge number of students rely on UGA's bus system. Campus Transit Dispatcher, Ky Gibson, plays an integral part in making sure members of our campus community can get where they need to go.

In conjunction with the rest of our Campus Transit team, Ky is responsible for assigning the 80+ bus fleet to the 15 bus routes we have on campus. Ky explained, "The main responsibilities of my position are to handle the logistics of the bus system and answer the radio and phone."

Ky has worked for Campus Transit off and on since the Spring of 2016 and has held a variety of roles and responsibilities in the department. "Ky brings her knowledge from being a student driver, full-time driver and a transit ambassador to assist with improving our transit system for the university community," said Jeff Arthur, Operations Manager with Campus Transit. "Her knowledge, combined with her enthusiasm, has made her a shining star on our team. Campus Transit is a better organization because of people like Ky."

Born in Chickamauga, Georgia, Ky graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from UGA in the Fall of 2018. She is currently working on her Master of Education in Higher Education Administration through Georgia Southern University. With a goal of traveling to every National Park, Ky has already visited over half!

"I love traveling, hiking, and baking," Ky said. "My partner and I spent two months over the summer on a cross county National Park Road trip. We made it all the way to Oregon!"

Ky is one of the many students who have turned their work with Auxiliary Services into a career path. Transportation & Parking Services is just one of the Auxiliary units that prides itself on the resilience and dedication of its team members. Ky, like others, is an example of how we strive each day to create extraordinary experiences that put people first.
